Wisdom for the Week

Kids don't remember what you try to teach them. They remember what you are.

One liners:

- My dad was hit on the head with a can of soda. Luckily, it was a soft drink.
- My boss told me to have a good day. So I didn't go to work
- Why don't people play more hide-and-seek? Because good players are hard to find.

Guest Speaker. Julie Murphy - Ocean Grove Library

Julie hosted an info session at the library to expand on the range of services they offer their. About 20 members attended.

The group then re-assembled at the bowling club for our normal meeting.

After reports, Julie expanded on her information sessions at the library detailing their activities and community service programs.

Besides the usual book services, the regional library service can offer:

- spaces to relax and read newspapers/magazines - hard copies or online.
- Use the online services; free wi fi access to international services.
- A range of tech base services to enhance digital understanding
- Support to 'save family stories' with a host of digital conversion training and services.
- Writers Workshops
- Spaces For Studying/ Working/Creating
- Ecollections - eg Borrowbox and The Gutenberg Project)
- Heritage Centres - access to their collections and support.

Kath thanking Julie

For special requirements, you can 'book a librarian' for 30 minutes.

Clearly, local libraries are very different from our traditional perception of them being just a book repository. They offer a host of support services for all ages. Definitely worth a visit.
